

The Construction Industry Crime Alliance (CICA)

a partnership between the Albuquerque Police Department and:

- *American Subcontractors Association of New Mexico (ASA-NM)
 - *Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc. (ABC)
- *New Mexico Utility Contractors Association (NMUCA)
 - *Associated Contractors of New Mexico (ACNM)
 - *Associated General Contractors (AGC)
- *Mechanical Contractors Association (MCA)
 - *New Mexico Roofing Contractors Association (NMRCA)

CICA is a tool for APD and Albuquerque's construction and contracting community to share information about active offenders and criminal enterprises operating in Albuquerque targeting the construction community. Currently CICA is over 80 members strong and still growing. Contact your organization for information on signing up or visit the CICA website today!

How to Join Construction Industry Crime Alliance Crime Fighting Partnership:

Go to www.connectabq.org

- On the left side under "CONNECT" click on the "Join Now" Link
- Then you will be directed to a new page and you can click on "Become an CICA Partner"
- You will then fill out the form Check the "I Agree" box and hit submit. Once you have submitted the form, it will allow you to print a copy and send to your ASA-NM point of contact.
- Once you receive an approval e-mail you will have access to view information in the website and to submit alerts.
- To post an alert you click on the "Submit a CICA Alert" on the left of the screen. Fill out the alert page and attach any photos, scanned copies of documents, etc.
- When you hit "Submit" at the bottom of the page, an e-mail will be sent out to all CICA Partners as notification to check the website.
